

La Fe Policy Research and Education Center
Abuelos y Nietos Juntos Program

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
Monthly Support Group *Platica
September 2010 – May 2011

INTRODUCTION

La Fe Policy Research and Education Center (La Fe PREC) is a non-profit organization established in San Antonio in January 2005. A strategic focus of La Fe PREC is the “bienestar” (well-being) of seniors, including grandparent raising grandchildren (GRG). In 2007, La Fe PREC established the, Abuelos y Nietos Juntos (Grandparents and Grandchildren Together) Program, with the goal of demonstrating improvements in the health and bienestar of Latino GRG and their grandchildren. In May 2011, the project completed its fourth year.

SERVICES

A core component of the program is a two-hour, monthly Spanish support group “platica” (discussion) for nine months. The intended outcomes for GRG are self-empowerment, civic engagement and advocacy. Diverse bienestar topics are discussed during the “platicas”, guided by GRG input. Guest speakers include community partners who provide the services most needed by GRG. A monthly packet provided to the GRG includes information on community resources and educational/recreational events. GRG have become strong advocates and navigators in securing services. They have benefited from support group platicas. They learned about community resources; received mutual support in problem-solving and built trusting relationships

PROFILE OF GRG AND THEIR GRANDCHILDREN

Of the 31 GRG who attended the Spanish support group during the school year, 16 (49%) attended 1-2 sessions, 5 (17%) 3-5 sessions and 10 (33%) 6 – 9 sessions. Of the GRG who participated, 26 (84%) were women and 5 (16%) were men. The mean age was 62 for females/64 for males. All but two of the GRG (94%) were voluntary caregivers, with no CPS involvement. Most GRG relied on Social Security as their only source of income. Only one GRG reported an income over $35,000+; three from $25,000 to $35,000. All the others reported income of under $25,000. These GRG cared for a total of 54 grandchildren, ranging from one to six grandchildren, ages from 3 months to 18 years of age. Some “sandwich” generation GRG also were caregivers for their aging parents.

Of the 54 grandchildren, the majority (52%) were pre-teens and teenagers. The younger children (48%) ranged in age from 3 months to 10 years. There were 28 girls and 26 boys. The mean number of years a grandchild had resided with a GRG was 7 years but ranged from 3 month to 15 year. All but two of the grandchildren had health insurance, primarily Medicaid. Most grandchildren (85%) resided in GRG households with annual incomes of less than $24,999.

NEXT STEPS

The Abuelos y Nietos Juntos Program has validated the benefits to family bienestar resulting from participation in the mutual support group platica, where GRG share their life experiences and learn from each other and community partners. Their self-confidence has encouraged them to be proactive advocates with community leaders and elected officials to create more awareness of the issues and barriers GRG confront. In 2011-12, the Abuelos Support Group platica will continue, civic engagement activities will be expanded and advocacy will continue for a 1-stop resource center for GRG and legislative policies supportive of GRG. Starting in September 2011, GRG will have the opportunity to engage in leadership development/promotora training, to enhance their skills to become better advocate for the bienestar of their grandchildren and themselves.
